That would give tendelegates. In the XXIst Major Bullard would vote for Cornell, and probably one more out of the four delegates would do likewise, though the people of that district were themselves strongly in favor of the Administration. There was a possibility of a conflict, moreover, in the XXIIId District. As nearly as could be predicted, Mr. Cornell would have cleven or twelve votes from the city districts. "I think they will."

Another politician of the district who was standing on the carbstone in front of the association room said: "Would we support an Administration candidate till the last gun was fired? Yes, indeed, we would. I can say for myself that I would support him from 'way back."

J. W. Marshall, the president of the Garfield Club in the XIIIth District, said that they had decided to make no contest or opposition to the Stalwart ticket. "We have," he said, "more than 800 members on our roll, the most of whom are tradesmen,

It was said at Police Head-quarters yesterday that the Tammany Hall organization probably would receive the preference over the County Democracy and Irving Hall. So far as could be ascertained the Republican Commissioners are expected to vote for one-half of the Tammany list, one-quarter of the Irving Hall list and one-quarter of the County Democracy list. Such an arrangement was said to suit Mr. Nichols, while Mr. Matthews will insist on allowing the County Democracy to select all of the Democratic Inspectors.

HERKIMER, N. Y., Sept. 11 .- In this thriving and beautiful village of the Mohawk Valley there lives one of the United States Senators of the State: Warner Miller. Its inhabitants within nine years have witnessed Mr. Miller's election as Assemblyman, then as Congressman, and finally as Senator-Meanwhile, however, his mill has received hi constant attention, so that the current of his business life may be said to have flowed side by side with that of his political. Senator Miller returned home from Maine, where ings, late last week. Since then he has been hard at work attending to his business affairs. To-day he was visited at his home by a TRIBUNE correspondent, and during a conversation with him gave expression briefly to some views concerning the approaching Republican State Convention. It is well known that the Republicans of Herkimer County, white very friendly personally to Mr. that at the County Convention, which will be held to morrow, delegates who will favor Mr. Cornell's nowever, at such conventions in this county, the delegates will not be instructed to vote for any special candidate. That they will all be for Cornell is not to be doubted. It is proposed that Senator Miller shall head the delegation. His language to-day, therefore, is significant.
